YELLOW JACKET HITS RICH ORE RUNS HI VALUE

Another rich strike of specimen ore is reported from one of the raises in the Yellow Jacket mine at Alleghany. Owing to financial conditons full development of the property has not been prosecuted with vigor the past few months. The strike was made just prior to the holdiay close-down and Superintendent Bert A. Reber had some beautiful specimens of the rich ore.

Reber left on the stage for Alleghany Wednesday morning after trying to drive through with his machine and is preparing to reopen the property and carry on development with a small crew until the company is ready to move full steam ahead. It is the plan of the company to drive into the Osceola ground where much rich rock was taken out in previous operations.

Stockholders in the Red Star group lying to the north of the Osceola have been making surveys of the Osceola workings with the possible intention of working through the Osceola to get into their own ground.

The Yellow Jacket offers wonderful possibilities for rich porduction once the finances are provided for thorough opening up of the extensive holdings .Alleghany will yet come into her own as the richest gold mining camp in the world.

Over thirty applicants for positions as census enumerators for the busness census to be undertaken by the federal government, gathered at The Nugget office Saturday afternoon to register with District Census Chief H. TRUCKEE GIVEN LARGE SUM FOR PUBLICITY

McCormack of the Nevada County Development Association have.... ihsued a check to the Truckee Chamber of Commerce in the amount of $250 to assist in publicity work for the snow sports. The citizens of the east end of the county feel very grateful to the Development Association which has assisted them at different times in a financial way to further their region. This Association is the only county wide organization which has furnished financial assistance to the east end of the county to help them put over their ambitious plans.

The famous Kirkpatrick mine near Goodyear Bar is nearly ready for an extensive development program the coming spring with the water nearly all out of the workings. George Nightengale is now superintendent of operations succeeding Hugh Gallagher.

State Tueasurer Gus Johnson of Sacramento is the principal owner in the property.

MINING INSURANCE IS POPULAR FOR READING

The conclusion of the continued article on the findings of the insurance committee of the Mining Association of California in the columns of The Nugget this week shows that the publication has created a great deal of interest in the greatest hurdle of the mining industry is confronting in getting rehabilitated. The story [illegible] in this paper has a great following and many compliments have been given us for devoting space to this all-absorbing topic .

R. L. Kimmel who is severing his official connection with the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce in the next few weeks will devote his entire attention to putting over the new mutual insurance company among the operators. This company will be the major activity of the state association the coming year, for without sufficient interest taken by the mining operators themselves in forming such a company to cut down materially the high cost of compensation insurance, there would be but little use in trying to conduct an association for the benefit of the industry. It is up to the operators themselves to get behind the self insurance idea 100% at the earliest possible moment and cut at least two thirds from their present cost of insurance. Kimmel has a big job ahead of him but we predict he will come through with flying colors.

With the Sacramento civic organization severing itself from any further help for promoting the state mining association, the next move will be to have the headquarters in San Francisco where the industry is apparently better appreciated. San Francisco has been making overtures to this end.

MINING PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bahls of San Francisco are staying at the National Hotel a few days. They hve a country home on the western end of Cement Hill, and are also developing a mining claim there.

PECULIAR AUTO FIRE

A broken gas line benoath the Cassidy coupe in front of the J. M. Foley place the other night caused the fire department a lot of trouble to locate it. In starting up the engine, Miss Beatrice Cassidy caused the leaking gasoline to ignite with the result that the fire truck was called. Finally Charley Leiter braved the heat and guided the car downhill where it was found that the trouble was under the car and not in it. The car was badly dmaged.

H. W. Huckins of North San Juan was summoned as a grand juror at the county seat during last week.

Miss Mary Schmidt has returned to San Francisco after spending a month here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Schmidt.

SPECIMEN ORE RUNNING $1000 A TON CUT IN WINZE AT PIONEER PAST WEEK

A rich strike of specimen ore running over $1000 per ton has been struck the past few days in the winze being sunk at the Pioneer mine on the C. C. Mitchell ranch south of town. The ore is plastered with real coarse gold which is pleasing to the eye.

The strike was made at a point about 270 feet from the surface on an incline, and about 100 feet down in the winze. The ledge which was struck is about two and a half feet in width and is well brecciated. It carries a lot of heavy sulphdies and shows plenty of galena and tungsten. About one foot of the ledge shows milling values of over $1000 per ton, while the remainder is excellent milling rock.

The company expects to continue the sinking of the winze another 100 feet but the recent strike coupled with the excellent showing of ore made in other sections of the property confirms the belief that the Pioneer interests have the making of a real mine that will pay big dividends when on a production basis. The Company has shown a conservative tendency in the matter of its development work preferring to conduct a large program of development before embarking on an extensive milling program as so many companies are wont to do too early in the game.

It is expected to install a small mill on the property at an early date for the purpose of making test runs to keep a check on the ore bodies as they are opened up. The company also intends to install a new surface plant and pumping facilities in the near future.

Superintendent H. H. Marsh confirmed the finding of the new ledge to The Nugget and the news will give great encouragement to the stockholders who have been financing the development operations.

The Pioneer with its close proximity to the famous Idaho Maryland, the extent of its holdings and the ore bodies which have already been opened up should become one of the district's leading producers in the next few years. The innate faith of C. C. Mitchell after thirty years looks about to be amply rewarded.

HAS THRILLING EXPERIENCE

Miss Beatrice Ott while returning to her school duties at Carson City last week had a thrilling experience on the highway south of Reno. The party were trying to ride out the storm which was blowing a gale and driving snow. On Washoe hill they found nearly thirty machines hung up due to one machine sliding into a ditch, another one after it and a third one crossways of the road. Due to having to keep the motors running to prevent freezing gasoline soon began to run sort. Tow cars sent out did no good and finally a special train on the Virginia and Truckee reached the spot about 1:45 a. m. and brought rescue to the motorists. Miss Ott reached Carson City only a couple of hours before school time.

Fischer holds this contract. John P. Muscardin who has the Graniteville route, Joe Lopez the Washington run, Frank Davies the Alleghany and Forest route and Buck Jones the Marysville route, all look to have spritied competition. The winners of the bids will be announced early next month.

HIGH SCHOOL DANCE

Last Friday night the freshman class entertained the students of the Nevada City High School by sponsoring the first dance held this fear at the High School gymnasium.

The gymnasium was prettily decorated in blue and gold the class colors.

The class in decorating thought out the idea of childhood not in the true sense of the word but because of the fact the Freshies were the ones who held the dance. The idea was well carried out in the decorations by having pictures of babes and youths playing with toys. The Freshies also showed their ability in decorating by the clever lettering on the walls. Good music was furnished by an orchestra consisting of four pieces, Mr. Pedersen played the trumpet, Vernon Sandow the drums; Fred Conway, the banjo; and Frankie Cortoscelli the accordion.

Another feature of the evening which carried out the idea of childhood was the lolipops which were handed out at the beginning of the dance a refreshment which served to raise an appetite for the later refreshments of ice cream cones and cookies.

The dancing continued until eleven o'clock with most of the crowd remaining until the last. The freshmen played well the part of hosts and all guests had an enjoyable time.

CHIEF SHEARER WAS KILLED IN COAST MISHAP

During the height of the coasting Saturday night on Broad street, a small sled crashed head on into Chief of Police Hiram Shearer, inflicting serious injuries. The Chief was struck across the shins, causing him to pitch into the air, and landing on his head. He was rushed to the Nevada City Sanitarium where it was found that he was suffering internal head hemorrhages.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the family in their affliction.

Chief of Police H. D. Shearer as the result of an unusual accident suffered Saturday night, passed away in the early mornnig hours yesterday at the Nevada City Sanitarium without regaining consciousness. Funeral servces will be held tomorrow afternoon under the auspices of the Odd Fellows of which Order he was a faithful and highly honored member.

For the past thirty years HI Shearer has been a familiar figure on Nevada City'c steets, serving during that time as city marshal, superintendent of public works which includes about all the hard work to be done, and tax collector as well. He was one of the longest in service of any public official in California.

After coming out from the East he followed mining for a number of years in Siskiyou county where he suffered an accident which cost him right arm. It was while there that he met, wooed and won the lady of his choice who proved a true helpmeet and who has the sympathy of the entire community in her great sorrow at his untimely passing.

Fraternally he was affliated with the Odd Fellows of whcih he was a Past Noble Grand and Trustee, and also of the Masonic fraternity.

As a mark of respect to his memory it is proposed that the business houses of Nevada City will remain closed during the funeral services.

UNUSUAL FALL OF SNOW AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Passersby, last Thursday came to the conclusion that there was an unusually heavy fall of snow at the high school grounds judging from the size if the snow flakes flying thru the air from three o'clock til half past three. They noticed also that midst the heavy falling of snow many snowmen of all sizes and shapes were actually moving about. The onlookers were certainly amused and surprised to find, after the forms had shaken the snow from their clothing, and removed the snow from their eyes, nose and mouth, that the snow men were really the students of the Nevada City high schol—small, insignificant, freshies, flighty sophimores, proud juniors and mighty seniors. They found out also that the large unusual snow flakes had in reality been a steady stream of snow balls.

That's right you guessed it!—the juniors and seniors had a snow ball fight with the sophomores and freshies on the high school grounds! What a merry fight it was! The teachers were highly amused for not only the boys were in the battle but the girls and also participated in the fun by rolling each other.

The students certainly appreciated Mr. Wilson's having given them the last fifteen minutes of the school day to have a real snow-ball fight. The students have resolved to show their appreciation by refraining from throwing any more snow inside of the building and outside as well.

An inmate by the name of Burns passed away at the clunty hospital yesterday. The remains are at the Holmes Funeral Home.

Mrs. Charles Bush of Tracy is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Rossen.

COZY CORNER CHAT

THE PRESENT EPIDEMIC of dogs, many of them unlicensed by the city to operate presumably in their own back yards, promises to bring forth a display of family fowling pieces in the near future if the owners are not a little more careful in keeping their canines at home. The other morning the publisher came across a hound dog just preparing to make a meal off a fine five dollar ham he had rousted from a supply of eatables which the owner had nit gotten into the house for safe keeping. The publisher's family has suffered some $75. worth of monetary loss from the depredations of a neighborhood dog including a fine lamb roast which the dog had to leap a high fence, open a porch door and then climb high up to reach. The town is getting overrun with canines, many of them not even good decorations. There is not really much if any excuse keeping dogs in town and if the city would plaster on a little stiffer license and then enforce it impartially it mght help to keep down the canint population to a somewhat decent figure.

THE FOLLOWING from the Placerville Republican properly epitomizes the pinch-penny policy of the Sacramenti civic organization with regard to helping the mining industry get on its feet once more:

FOOLISH ECONOMY

The Sacramento Chamber of Commerce ni voting to discontinue two of the secretaryships, as a move toward economy, is making a serious error. The bureau of mines and mining, one branch of the department headed by R. L. Kimmel, of least, is one of the principal functions of the capital city chamber, and justifies, in large part, the amount of money spent by Sacramento business men for chamber of commerce work.

One thing of interest which has been brot out in the argument aroused by the announced intention of ousting Kimmel as an economical step is the fusing of the agricultural and mining interests within the chamber—Kimmel heading the bureau handling both those parts of the work. Had that been done months ago, no such situation as that now existing could have existed.

For several years niw, Sacramento has been in a "stew" at the expiration of each succeeding contract with the secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Some years back, it will be remembered, a move toward economy resulted in loss of A. S. Dudley, who went to other cities as secretary of booster organizations. The lower-salaried secretaries succeeding him in the interim should have been a lasson to those directing the destinies of the chamber—but apparently were not. Now the same old story is being heard—economy in management of the chamber in order to retain Dudley, who now receives $12,000 a year, is worth it beyond all question. His work during the three-year term which is now expiring has brot to the capital city returns far in excess of what his services have cost already and the foundations laid for further returns will be bringing in direct profits, in dollars and cents, for many years if properly followed up.

Kimmel's own department— the bureau of mines and mining—is easily the most widely known of the Chamber with the possible exception of the resort and travel department. The publicity alone which is received day after day and week after week as a result of the bureau's actvities, is priceless. And the value of the stimulation of mining in northern California thru the work of the bureau cannot be computed with any degree of accuracy. One project successfully carried out within the last few months—organizations of the Mining Association of California and establishment of local chapters—is alone worth all that the bureau will cost the next year. Loss of the advantages gained in that direction is practically certain if Kimmel's department is abolished. And the consequent loss to the chamber as a whole would be tremendus.

The bureau f mines and mining of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce has, for many years, supplied accurate, reliable information to the press on the newest developments in mining in northern California. The bulletins issued are accepted at face value by newspapers as a rule, because they have in the past found that they are to be relied upon and are not in any sense of the word pripaganda. Should that service alone be discontinued, as it most certainly will be with abolition of Kimmel's department, the loss in publicity would be tremendous.

For the sake of saving a few thousand dollars a year, as it seems to us, directors of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce are willing to jeopardize the Chamber of Commerce's work. The thousands spent will be more or less without results if an important portion of the chamber's work is stopped. And any interference with the smooth, efficient functioning of an organization as big and as stable as that body, for the sake of a few dollars where large amounts are involved, seems utterly foolish economy.

THE DISAPPEARING TOYON

By Adelaide Veale.

The disappearing toyon! It will indeed be an excellent name for the more commonly known redberry if the winter tourists continue to have their way. The toyon berry has long been one of Nevada City's most beautiful assets but now, although protected by law, its scarcity is becoming alarming.

The blame for this scarcity, however, cannot rest entirely upon the tourists. Another and perhaps more formidable enemy is to be found in those dealers from the city who come up and carry away not only the toyon berries but a sizeable slice of the forest as well. They are quite as dangerous, if not more so, as the visitor who exclaims: "Oh! What beautiful berries! I must take some home. I'm sure the owner wouldn't mind".

Perhaps the owner wouldn't mind, but after all these people are not mind readers and there is a law prohibiting the gathering of toyons upon private property unless the gatherer has a permit. So, people of Nevada City, think twice before you let either the tourists or the dealers carry a part of the beauty of your home away from you. You would not let them take your home Do not let them take the beauty either.

THE LONE GRAVE

By Thelma Borcham

Beneath the stately pines and cedars on the Washington road between Nevada City and the Central House is a little grave, alone and forsaken.

The story is simple and though now almsot forgotten is at times related by some of the old pioneers. Some seventy years or more ago around the time of the gold rush in California, a little band of people, finding the woods much more dense than they are at present and thinking they could make more money lumbering than panning gold, selected this spot. After building a sawmill they started to work and remained here for perhaps a year. Death, during this time, called the youngest of the party, a child of merely three years. A grave was dug near the camp and the little one was laid to rest 'neath the murmuring trees. In a short time, the party findfng the lumbering business an unprofitable one and feeling the craze of gold and money moved on to a more prosperous part of the country leaving the grave to mark the spot of a lost hope.

Many years have now passed, and a little white marker nailed on a tree near the head of the child who slumbers beneath Mother Nature's breast, is the only trace left to remind one of this party who braved the hardships and sacrifices of pioneer days in an attempt to gain fortune and success.

STUDENT ASSEMBLY

A student body meeting was called on Wednesday afternoon, January the eighth. Mrs. Hulen, who had charge of the meeting gave the following awards: Aeola Smith, first year typing student, received a certificate showing she had typed thirty-two words per minute for fifteen minutes with less than five errors. Lena Ghidotti of the second year received a bronze pin for typing forty-three words per minute. Vivian Cerro a third year student received a gold pin for typing sixty-six words per minute with two errors.

Nadine Sutton, president of the Honor Society, presented Alberta Baker with the second installment of the scholarship fund. The fund consists of fifty dollars a year. Alberta won this because she was an honor student in her senior year. She expressed her appreciation to the Student Body for the gift. Alberta not only earned this honor in high school by her excellent grades, but has also made a high record at the university receiving no grade less than a "B" and two "A's".

While she was unable to attend her duties at the high school, the Sophomore students did not forget her kindness. To show their appreciation, they purchased a cyclamen plant and presented it to her.

Miss Whelan was very much pleased with the gift and hoped her illness would not keep her away from high school for any length of time.

FRENCH CORRAL ITEMS

FRENCH CORRAL, Jan. 11, (Specail to The Nugget)— Beautiful snow! Beautiful snow! and Oh so cold! 16° at 7:30 thsi a. m. We have but ltitle snow at French Corral, and ti hardly ever lasts longer than one day, but this time we think it is going to stay awhile. A light fall Sunday evening, followed by a generous snow storm Monday, which piled up to between 3 and 4 inches. "Old Sol" did his best to get it out of the way Tuesday, but "Jack Frost" is hanging around on his vacation and seems to be having things quite his way. Another fall during Wednesday night and Thursday, makes our section look quite wintry. Of course the youngsters enjoy it, and are having the time of their lives. Much suffering is brought to poor cattle that have to be out on the ranges. We note several strays that must be looked after.

Thirn English of Columbia Hill passed through yesterday with a herd of cattle. All were in good order and looked as if they might stand some hardships.

W. E. Moulton had business in Marysville Saturday.

The S. J. R. W. A. held their regular meeting Sunday afternoon. The committee in charge of the Christmas Eve dance—M. Denike, Mrs. A. Bradbury, Mrs. J. C. Holland, made a very flattering report, and much praise is due them for their faithful and earnest endeavor ni making the event a success. After all bills were paid they had nearly $200.00 clear A few more such successful events would help our water association very much.

Miss Frances Miulton accompanied by her freinds, Carlton and Miss Ioyl Hinshaw, made the trip from Sacramento to spend Sunday at her home ni French Corral. All returned to Sacramento in the evening.

N. B. Bishop made a trip to Nevada Sunday, and returned to French Corral Monday.

Miss Millie Clerkin and Mrs. K. Sullvian were San Juan visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Browning and children returned to French Corral Sunday, after spending the holidays with relatives in Nevada City. The new baby, Donald Ray, seems satisfied with his new abode.

W. P. Clerkin returned from the lower country where he has been looking after his cattle.

Mrs. J. W. Culver accompanied Mrs. Elsie Schwartz to the latter's home in Pleasant Valley Wednesday afternoon. From there both ladeis went to Smartsville in the evening to attend the meeting of the O. E. S. of whchi chapter both are members. Mrs. Culver returned to French Corral Thursday.

Clyde and Harry Browning made a business trip to Auburn Thursday.

The late storm damaged several of the old bulidings in French Corral. During the week one of the old landmarks of the "60's" a large warehouse was takne down to save the lumber. The passing of these ild landmarks recalls the "good old days" and those who shared them. This landmark was built for Chas. H. Bundoin, one of the leading storekeepers of that day, by Tim Peters, one of the early poineers of Timbucktoo and French Corral.

We have learned with sorrow of the death of Mrs. Sarah Kyle, at her home in Oakland. "Grandma Kyle", as she was affectionately known by many, was an early day resident of Sweetland and this place her large famliy of nine children were born. Later the family moved to Birchville, where they spent many years. Her husband the late Stephen Kyle, passed away many years ago. Grandma had attained the age of 91 years and was a wonderfully bright and interesting woman and beloved by all. We extend to her family our sympathy.

Miss Eugenie Wright has returned o Berkeley to resumer her studies in Munson's Secretarial school. She has spent her holidays with her parents, District Attorney and Mrs. W. E. Wright.

Mrs. George L. Jones accompanied her daughters, Misses Helen and Nancy, to Palo Alto where they have resumed their studies at Stanford university. They also visited in San Francisco for a short time.

Walter Carlson, grammar school principal, spent his vacation at Arcata with relatives.

Mr and Mrs. J. M. McMahon are home from spending the holidays in the bay region.

NEW COMPANY TO REDUCE THE COST MINING COMPENSATION INSURANCE

If, on the other hand, "A" immediately after the accident which he had suffered should sell his property either to "B" or "C" and from that date on the purchaser should continue to run the property with no better preventive measures than had "A", neither "B" or "C" will be charged any penalty. Suppose that two years later "A" buys back the property which he sold, his bad experience is charged against him and he cannot carry on the same property that "B" or "C" could at normal rates but would again be subjected to the penalty on account of the charge against him.

Life Insurance or Fire Insurance or many other forms of insurance are not conducted on this basis. Thousands of policyholders have paid fire premiums for years and years without ever collecting for a loss. The premiums they have paid have built up the surpluses in the fire insurance companes whch have enabled them to stand the losses that occasionally wipe out an entire establishment. Supposing the owner of such an establishment could get credit and reopen his business the day following the fire. If he were in a building as favorably located as he previously occupied he could get just as favorable fire insurance rates as he enjoyed before and no penalty would be put upon hm because he had been unfortunate enough to sustain a fire loss. The opposite principle is at the base of the experience rating and instead of having the entire mass of policy holders divide the losses between them, the losses through the penalizing system are loaded upon the proprietor in whose establishment the accident occurred.

The insurers say that a man with a favorable experience gets a credit which will untimately reduce his premium. Unfortunately this credit does not apply to companies whose premiums amount to less than $2,000 annually. Elsewhere in this report we commented on the smaller man with a $600 annual workman's compensation premium who never had and claims and whose premiums have increased instead of being reduced. If there were justness in the experience rating plan, the mines that have not had an accident should have a credit rating which would cut 6% premiums to almost nil. The gold mining industry of California is in a serious predicament. Gold mining is the only industry the price of whose product is absolutely fixed in dollars and cents and cannot increase the price of its output no matter how the cost of production may be increased.

It is anticipated that the Workmen's Compensation premium in California will shortly increased to 10% or more. The effect this will have on investors from outside of California in gold mining properties may be seen from the following letter received by the manager of our mining bureau:

August 22nd, 1929.

Mr. Lyle S. Kimmel,
Sacramento ,California,

Dear Sir:—

This company has under consideration the matter of entering the California field to be engaged in the business of mining, but find on investigation that there is at least one very objectionable feature, which appears to be almost insurmountable, and, on the face of it looks as though the condition is in fact brought about for the purpose of discuraging the industry in your great state.

The matter referred to is the rate of Compensation Insurance charged.

So far as we know, there is no state in the Union in which metal mining is engaged in that charges anywhere nearly as much as is charged in California.

So far as we have been able to ascertain no state in which Coal mining is engaged in charges nearly as as high rates for Compensation as is charged in California, and no Province in the Dominion of Canada charges nearly as much.

There has been only one disastrous accident in the history of California Mining during the last decade, or in fact in the last 25 years, whereas there has been many very bad accidents in other states and in Canada since that time that time would make the Argonaut accident look small, and still their rates are about half the rate in California.

Can you give, or can you obtain in the interests of the industry, a sane answer for the reason of the present rate in the State of California?

Surely the business of mining can not flourish, nor can the State of California expect the people interested in the business of mining to relish such a handicap, when there is no apparent reason for it.

We will appreciate a reply covering the above matter, and will appreciate any efforts put forth by the business organizations in California that might be able to help right these conditions, for surely the people of the state of California are not unmindful of the part that MINING has had to do with the actual making of the State.

Appreciating a reply, we are

Very truly yours,
SOUTHWEST MINES INVESTMENT COMPANY
(Signed) By J. E. Miller, Manager.

It is the belief of your committee that if a cooperative mutual insurance company were formed among the mining companies and miners of California to carry the Workmen's Compensation insurance of all the members the losses could be distributed and paid from the premiums collected for a smaller premium than we are now compelled to pay under the present system. Not every mine has a catastrophe. Those who have them are the minority. If the payrolls of all the smaller mines were massed and the losses paid and no penalties imposed and still keep the cost of this insurance well below the amount now being collected. What becomes of the premiums collected from those small mines which are not large enough to obtain a credit rating for good experience is a mystery.

The situation demands the cooperation and combination of those engaged in the mining so that this insurance may be carried on a mutual plan at actual cost.

The State has permitted the organization of mutual fire insurance companies in the agricultural communities and a number of counties have such companies operating successfully and at a moderate cost.

If there is to be relief, it must be secured through the efforts of those who are sympathetic with the mining industry and not by those whose solicitude is for the private companies engaged in the business of workmen's compensation insurance.

This subject must be presented at every mining gathering until there is an awakened sentiment demanding relief. If the mining operators will unite n a State mutual organization for the sake of carrying this risk, we believe the industry can by that method work out its own salvation. If this relief is not forthcoming, by this method, then the mining counties of this State through their legislative representatives should demand an investigation as to why the rate making powers in this form of insurance should not grant the mining industry the relief it seeks and which is is necessary to the life of that industry.

Dated September 4, 1929.

Respectfully submitted,
C. S. BROOKS,
CHAS. L. GILMORE

The mining industry needs an effective organization at once if it is to be rehabilitated and placed on a par with the industry in other metal producing states and made attractive to investing capital. The new state mining association is already functioning in an effective manner, although but two months old. A mutual insurance company is being incorporated which should reduce the cost of compensation insurance two thirds by another year and lift this heavy cost from the mining industry. If you want to see the industry flourish once more, you as an individual are going to invest five dollars a year to help bring this about. Sign the application blank below and send with your remittance to A. A. Willoughby, Secretary, Nevada City, Calif. Receipt will be mailed.

SPORT NOTES

Standing of the Teams

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Native Sons.	13	8	.619
Corte Colombo	13	8	.619
Odd Fellows	12	9	.571
Court Garfield	3	18	.142

During the past week on the local horseshoe courts, the dope kettle was completely spliled over when the Odd Fellows toppled the league leading Native Sons off their lofty perch and themselves moved upward in the percentage column to a comfortable situation.

The Odd Fellow sextet, lead by their doughty captain, Walter Carlson, turned back the Native Son invasoin of their hall in no uncertain manner, decisively winning all three cont ests while the bewildered NSs and their adherents helplessly contemplated the slaughter of their much touted tossers.

The followng evening the Corte Colombo contingent maintained their standing just one game in advance of the Odd Fellows by winning al lthree games from their brother Foresters of Court Garfield.

The race for the pretty pennant emblazoned "Horseshoe Champions of Nevada City for 1929-1930" and for the permanent trophy which is held by a winning team until defeated was stitched up up by last week's games in a pattern that presages a close and exciting finish of the race. For a time it looked as if the Native Sons were going to have a walkaway with this year's tournament but that vision has been exploded by the three blasts set off by the three linkers unders the Golden Bear parapets.

GRAY HAIR IS EASILY DARKENED

Tells How She Did It With a Home-Made Remedy

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well-known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her gray hair, made the following statement:

"Anyone can darken their gray or faded hair, and look tweny years younger with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Barbo Cmpound and ¼ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp, is not greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger".

The Spirit of the West

BANK OF AMERICA CALIFORNIA

It is traditional of the West that men are judged for what they are ... not for their history or ancestry.

Western institutions are measured by the same standard. Sixty-nine years of banking mean little unless that experience is available in a form readily adaptable to the solution of today's problems.

The facilities of the Bank of America have advanced a step ahead of the demands placed upon them. Today we are planning and building for tomorrow. Experience teaches us how to plan and build.

Forward-looking, progressive men and women find here a service in keeping with their requirements. They find foresight which is the outgrowth of long contact with California business problems. Here, too, they find strength which has grown through the years .. firm strength on which they can base their own future achievements.
